PACE launches new website: (www.pacecompany.com)

Pace launched a new site in the spring that is cleaner, more current and has great product photos. As a premier supplier of bulk equipment in Virginia, we wanted to make sure our customers could easily navigate the site to see our full capabilities. An added feature is a "Pace Selection Tool". If you are working on a project and want to get going as quickly as possible, we can help you with completing the data our manufacturers need to tailor a quote just for you. Call us, and we will give you the pass code! Also, check our site for current industry white papers. Under "Resources", you can find the current OSHA directive on combustible dusts and many other helpful documents to improve your bulk handling expertise!

Why test?

Want to make sure the equipment being quoted will perform when you install it? Most of our manufacturers have the ability to do extensive testing. These tests can help establish the most ideal equipment parameters for your application. Most often they are free of charge and we welcome the opportunity for you to witness your test. It helps increase your comfort level with the equipment, reduce the risk of a bad installation, and it is a great way to find out what the capabilities are of the manufacturer.
